It was Halloween night and Mary was ready to go trick or treating. Everyone thought Mary's costume was so cool! She was a robot this year and had electronic buttons that lit up and made funny beeping noises.

Mary went to lots of houses so her bag was full of all kinds of yummy treats. All of a sudden, a big dog came out of nowhere and started barking and growling at Mary. The dog made a leap at Mary's bag full of treats and grabbed it in his mouth. As quick as he came, he was gone and with him went all of Mary's treats. When the neighbors and friends heard of Mary's misfortune, they all brought over some of their candy and gave it to her. Mary ended up with more treats than she had in her bag when the dog took it!